

Financial Aid Resources on the Web

Check out these web-sites for all you need to know about applying for and receiving student financial aid for college.

www.csac.ca.gov includes information about California financial aid programs. Click on the Publications link on the main page, then on Forms and Publications Order Form to order your College Cash Box, a free resource for teachers and counselors loaded with everything you need to educate students and parents about financial aid.

www.californiacashforcollege.org lists free Cash for College workshops in your area where your students and their parents can get hands-on assistance filling out the FAFSA during the months of January and February 2005. You can also download FAFSA presentations in a multi-language format.

www.calgrants.org contains information for students on the benefits of a Cal Grant and how to apply for one.

www.edfund.org provides information about money management and student loans. Click on the Forms and Publications link on the main page to order free posters, publications and videos about financial aid.

www.fafsa.ed.gov is where students can go to apply for the Cal Grant and other financial aid programs online.

www.californiacolleges.edu provides students with information about higher education opportunities in California and how to choose a college that is right for them.

www.scholarshare.org provides information about ScholarShare, California's college savings program. Families can save for college and receive tax advantages.

www.finaid.org offers an overall look at financial aid as well as where and how to get it. Students can also take advantage of the free scholarship search service through FastWeb.